ANNIVERSARY OF THE
 WRECK OF THE ATLANTIC.

Many Lives Were Lost Because of the Breaking of Machinery on Steamer.

I was 15 years old when the Atlantic was lost, 25 years ago, said Frank Sisson of New London Friday. It was Thanksgiving day, Nov. 25, 1886. I remember Mr. Sisson. The night before Thanksgiving day the Atlantic, a fine new steamer, came down from Gal-litz, where the New York and New England railroad loaded its freight in those days, and stopped here.

It arrived and stayed like the old ship that night. I can remember it was three passengers got aboard the Atlantic here to go to New York for Thanksgiving. There was a Christopher C. Comstock. With him was George W. Rogers, who was 91 when he died two years ago. He was an officer from Fort Trumbull. Captain Comstock was one of an old seafaring family, went to sea all his life.

"Well, the Atlantic went out into the night and with it snowing and blowing, the wind came, southwest—no business to start out on such a night. Something about her machinery broke down and she got out of her anchors. Binding there, they didn't. Everybody blamed Captain Dustin. He was a handsome man, a New London man, don't know where he had his home.

"The ship dragged her anchors along and drifted right past New London harbor. Thanksgiving day all the people went down to the wharves to see the ship. It was a sight to see. The sound, drifting along. Nobody had an idea she'd go ashore, but she did. She dragged onto Taber island the center of the wreck.

"I think it was about 2 o'clock in the morning, the next day, when the Atlantic went ashore. It was a sight to see. The ship was a wreck. It was a sight to see. The ship was a wreck.

"Comstock and the New London men on the steamer told Captain Dustin that if he put up sails, had them go to half together. But he wouldn't.
 "No, it was not a sailing ship. It was a little steamer that used to run between here and New York and brought the bodies back. That

SEAGWICK POST PRESENTED $50

Gift of Relief Corps Towards General Expenses—Address by Rev. C. H. Ricketts at Campfire in Which He Declares the Time Will Come When all Women Can Vote.

Sedgwick camp, No. 16, W. R. C., were the hostesses on Friday night at the Buckingham Memorial to Seagwick post No. 1, of the Grand Army, at a campfire.

The Sons of Veterans and the Citizens' corps, and after giving the veterans an enjoyable evening, spoke a surprise upon the post by making them a present of $50. The present was reserved by the ladies till the end of the evening and took the post members entirely by surprise, and had received no inkling that it was to come, since the Relief corps had only voted to make the gift at its meeting in the afternoon.

Supper served.

The entertaining programme arranged for the evening by the ladies under the direction of the executive committee of the corps, began with a supper of deliciously prepared victuals, good things, served at 7 o'clock in the post hall, at which about 40 of the post, men and citizens, were present. A number of the Relief corps ladies were present. Bullard's orchestra played during supper.

Welcomed by President.

With the fruit and coffee the ladies also thoughtfully provided cigars for the men, and when the time for the speechmaking arrived, the speaker, Kinney, president of the Relief corps, expressed his hearty welcome to the post, and extended the post and other organizations, bringing a response from Commander Henry Hovey, who, by direct steamer (from New York), England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland, and the city of Shanghai, China, to all other countries, including all places in China other than Shanghai, the rate is five cents for the first ounce, and three cents for each additional ounce or fraction thereof, which must be fully prepaid or the letter becomes liable on delivery to a charge equal to double the amount of the deficient postage.

For a number of years the ladies have paid only two cents, being short paid three cents, would be subject on delivery to an additional postage charge of six cents. Such short-paid letters have given rise to much complaint.

OFFICERS AT ARMORY

Received instructions from Captain Jackson on Coast Artillery Work.

At the armory Friday evening there were the officers of the companies in this end of the state belonging to the coast artillery corps, for the purpose of receiving their quarterly instruction from Captain Jackson. There were seven from New London in addition to those from this city.

Officers of the C. N. G. have received blank bond forms with the request that they be returned to the quartermaster at the end of the month. The request is made by the quartermaster, who is in the office of the adjutant general, in the rear of the state house.
